II About the strategy

Date published	2010
Signed by a minister	Yes
Duration	60 months
Number of pages	49

The approach: How does the department plan to use the broader environment in which it exists (element 1) to leverage its strengths and embrace its weaknesses (element 2) so that it can provide benefits in accordance with its vision (element 3)?

The approach is to manage the outcomes for New Zealand fisheries' highly migratory species with a Fisheries Plan Advisory Group.

Read more about the GDS's vision on page v. Is the strategy illustrated? No.

III Assessing stakeholder usefulness

If a public servant new to the policy area had an hour to read this GDS, would they be able to understand the approach (element 4) and the implementation and review processes (element 5)?

The key points of the issue could be explained in better detail, and the structure is poor. There is discussion of the predecessors to this GDS, but there are no 'lessons learnt' from these, which would be useful. However, a public servant would gain a good understanding of how the strategic outcomes will be achieved.

If an uninformed member of the public had 30 minutes to read this GDS, would they be able to understand the purpose (element 3), the approach (element 4), the implementation and review processes (element 5) and how this approach fits with the broader goals of government (element 6)?

The overall purpose and strategic outcomes are understandable at surface level, despite the unclear layout and technical language of the GDS. The review process has been stipulated, though it is difficult to find due to the poor structure.
