II About the strategy

Date published	2011
Signed by a minister	No
Duration	120 months
Number of pages	21

The approach: How does the department plan to use the broader environment in which it exists (element 1) to leverage its strengths and embrace its weaknesses (element 2) so that it can provide benefits in accordance with its vision (element 3)?

The approach is to manage the New Zealand school property portfolio through the Schools Property Infrastructure Group, enabling them to communicate the key projects and direction to the sector.

Read more about the GDS's vision on page 1.
Is the strategy illustrated? Yes, see page 4.

III Assessing stakeholder usefulness

If a public servant new to the policy area had an hour to read this GDS, would they be able to understand the approach (element 4) and the implementation and review processes (element 5)?

The key points of the issue are explained clearly, as well as the challenges involved and whom the strategy applies to and how. The measures of success are specific, and the ways in which the outcomes sought will be achieved are communicated well.

If an uninformed member of the public had 30 minutes to read this GDS, would they be able to understand the purpose (element 3), the approach (element 4), the implementation and review processes (element 5) and how this approach fits with the broader goals of government (element 6)?

The overall purpose and the strategic outcomes are set out very well. There is clear explanation of when certain activities need to be finished, and the GDS is easy to read. However, there needs to be discussion of review processes.
