II About the strategy

The approach: How does the department plan to use the broader environment in which it exists (element 1) to leverage its strengths and embrace its weaknesses (element 2) so that it can provide benefits in accordance with its vision (element 3)?

The approach is to prepare DHBs and the MoH for an emergency by setting out the procedures for allocation of national health reserve supplies during this time.

Read more about the GDS's vision on page 1.
Is the strategy illustrated? Yes, see page 9.

III Assessing stakeholder usefulness

If a public servant new to the policy area had an hour to read this GDS, would they be able to understand the approach (element 4) and the implementation and review processes (element 5)?

The key points of the issue are simple and set out sufficiently, as this GDS deals with one very specific issue. There is a lack of information as to how the outcomes sought will be achieved.

If an uninformed member of the public had 30 minutes to read this GDS, would they be able to understand the purpose (element 3), the approach (element 4), the implementation and review processes (element 5) and how this approach fits with the broader goals of government (element 6)?

The overall purpose is clear despite the GDS being of a very technical nature. The strategic outcomes are less clear; however, a member of the public would have a basic understanding of what is seeking to be achieved in the relevant (emergency) circumstances. There is no discussion of review.
