The approach: How does the department plan to use the broader environment in which it exists (element 1) to leverage its strengths and embrace its weaknesses (element 2) so that it can provide benefits in accordance with its vision (element 3)?

The approach is to direct communities wishing to take ownership of their heritage languages and enable them to develop action plans to successfully do this.

Read more about the GDS's vision on page 6.
Is the strategy illustrated? Yes, see page 5.

III Assessing stakeholder usefulness

If a public servant new to the policy area had an hour to read this GDS, would they be able to understand the approach (element 4) and the implementation and review processes (element 5)?

The key points of the strategy are well explained; however, discussion of how the outcomes sought will be achieved is not as thorough. The outcomes need to have more detail attached to them. The structure of the GDS is good, but it does not contain all essential information which may be required by a public servant.

If an uninformed member of the public had 30 minutes to read this GDS, would they be able to understand the purpose (element 3), the approach (element 4), the implementation and review processes (element 5) and how this approach fits with the broader goals of government (element 6)?

The overall purpose and strategic outcomes are easy for members of the public to understand. It is very user-friendly due to its visual layout. The GDS lacks discussion of review processes.
